Crystals to Arborea and Ysgard portals are found in Arborea.

This extradimensional space has a smaller grid in the courtyard than in every adjacent room. All squares on this map, regardless of size, represent a 5' x 5' area.

Arborea (Arvandor)

Treetop is 200' up, and surrounded by umbral banyans, treants, and other properly aligned active plants.

At the end of the dock is a summoning stone that calls an avoral guardinal whenever someone approaches within 30 feet without first giving the command phrase: "Oceanus, brightest of rivers."

The belongings of a gnome, or possibly a large halfling, are strewn about in the meadow suite.

Hell (Dis)

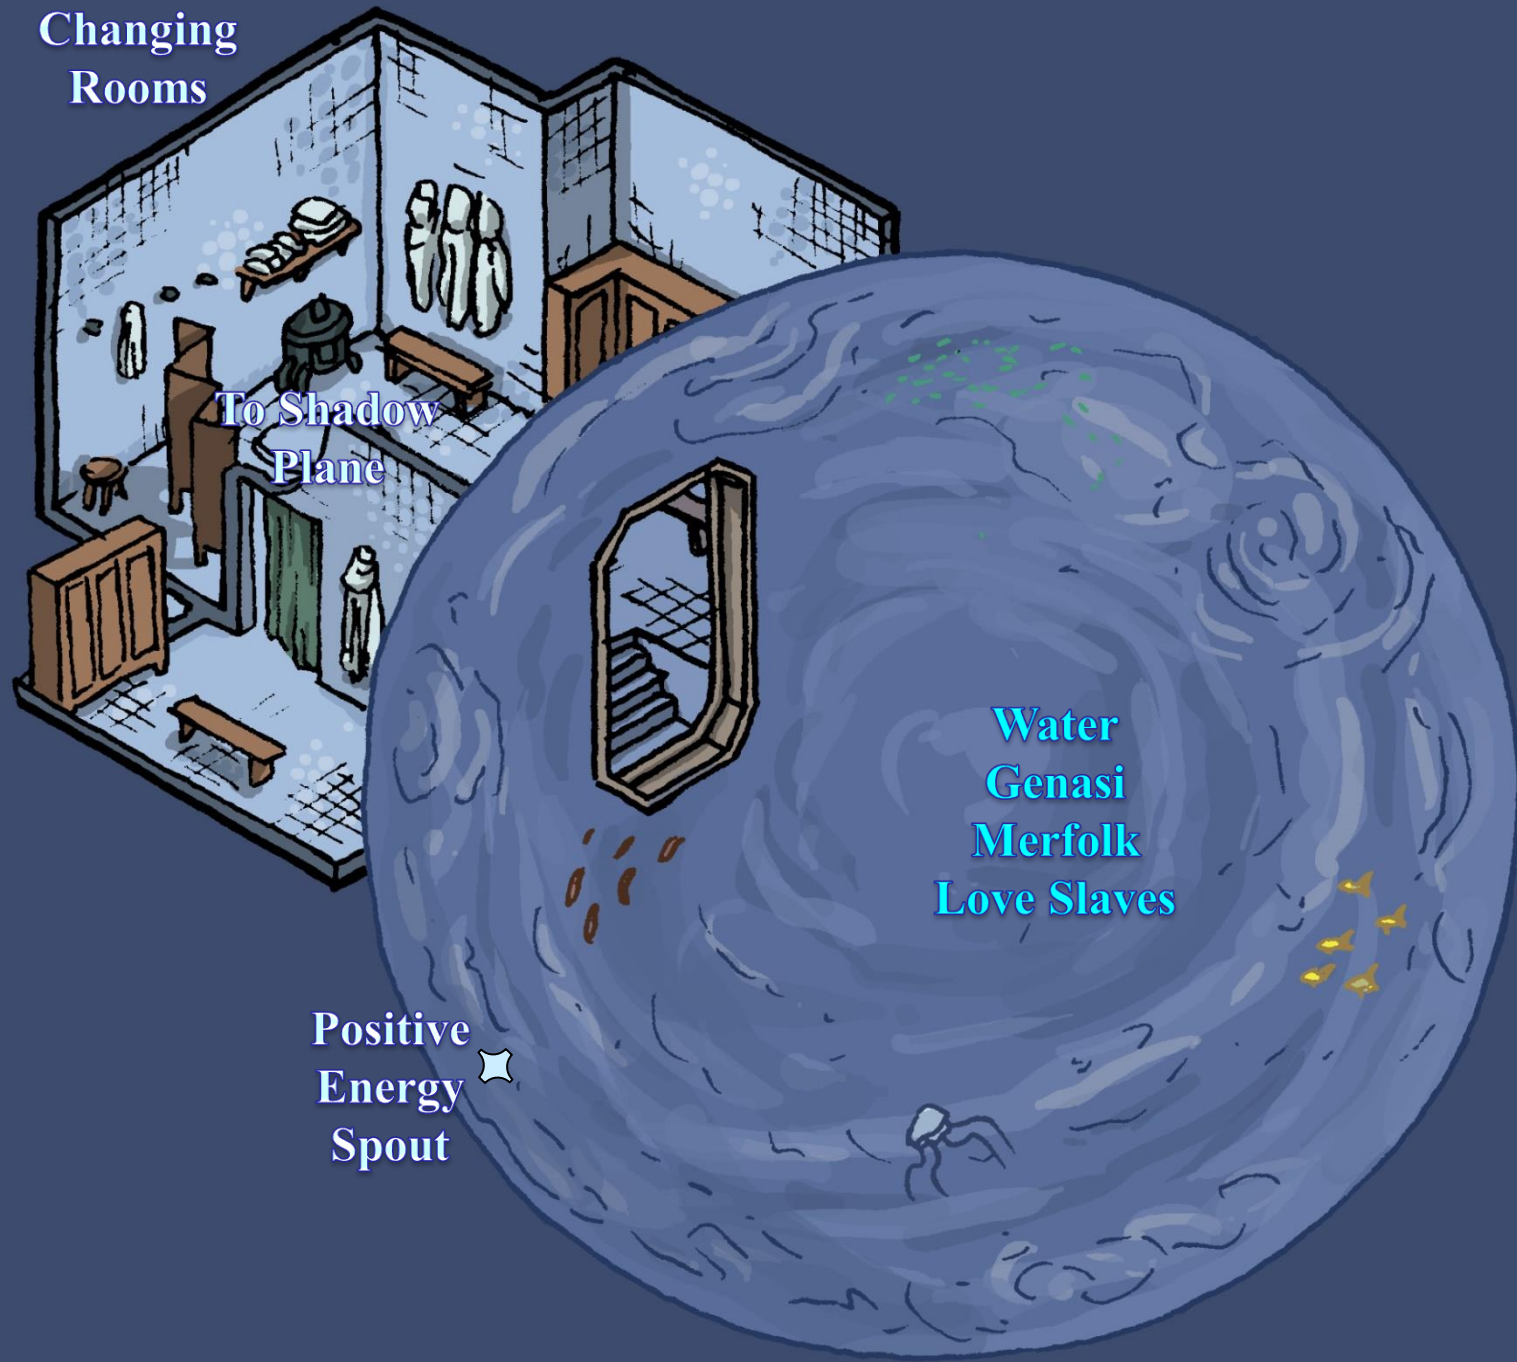

The scent of brimstone stings your nostrils as you approach a bend in the corridor. You can see a few wisps of yellow-white vapor drifting toward you from around the turn. The stone floor feels damp and slick. The air seems heavy and warm.
